

sometimes the best way forward is to retreat

Experiential

Immersive

Disruptive

Game Changing

We offer leadership development retreats that give executives and their teams a FRAMEWORK FOR FOCUS™
Take your attention back regardless of what comes next.

the choice is yours

Your Place or Ours?

Yours: You pick the retreat location, accommodations and food, we bring our professional training program and plan all the activities.

Ours: We do it all. Think NewCo does all the event planning and customizes a retreat to the specifications of your leadership team, at one of our signature offsite locations.

What is your level of luxury?

Fully supported camping = All the stuff you get at home, but in the great outdoors

4 walls and a door = Retreat center, summer camp or other basic facility

Glamping = Luxury in nature

High End = You tell us. Ritz? Relais and Chateaux? We just need access to outdoor activity

You Decide the Level of Challenge

Easy Peasy: Flat-ish walking and gentle paddling

So You Think You Can Dance?: Fit, but not too intense

Go Big or Go Home: Bring it, we're animals

Close to home, or far out?

Paddle on Tomales Bay, the Hudson River or a remote island in Baja. We can accommodate local and exotic retreat ideas and we'll help you understand the travel implications.

Who Does this?

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT RETREATS FOR THE LONG TERM

Don't just take our word for it... listen to our participants

YPO member and CEO *
Insurance

“ Our meetings are now more effective and productive. We have cut the time spent in 1/2 and doubled the output ”

Vistage Member and Key Employee* Recruiting

Think NewCo's workshop helps you realize just how much focus you've lost in the 24x7 connected world, and then provides actionable insights into how you can take to regain control.

Director of Analytics, Cloud Based Sales Group

By following this program I was able to find the answer to a business problem that had stumped me for two years.

Speaker, Published Author, CEO* Innovation

The key concept I came away with is that I have the ability to change my environment to allow myself to work at my best.

Executive coach and Leadership Consultant*

Specifically, NewCo helped me realize that I have a choice about being constantly pinged, and allowed me to take back control of the flow of communication. It was a sustained opportunity to reflect on what you want to accomplish and how.

Professor Emeritus, Author and Civic Leader,
University of Chicago*

If you've ever felt on the brink of burn out, it's time for Think NewCo. It will help you and your team reset and walk away with the skills needed to be more effective at work and in life.

Marketing Director, Cloud Based Sales Group

Great course that challenged all of us to completely unplug for a couple days, think about what changes we will make in our lives and how we can better work with one another. Bettina and Eli do a fantastic job leading the course and keeping everyone engaged.

Vice President, Renewals, Cloud Based Enterprise Automation
